

Miscellanea

POEMS

WISHES

If wishes came true
for me and for you
not all, but even a few imagine what all they would do....

No flood no quakes
no break ups no heart breaks no cheats no fakes
no terror no aches....

No orphans anymore
no helpless widows
no seeking eyes from old age home windows....

But if wishes came true
for me and for you
would we remember God
as we usually do....

No faith no temples
no prayers no bible
no devotees no worshipper searching the invincible....

Only if wishes came true which they seldom do
for me and for you
imagine what all they could do.....

DIFFERENT ROLES

Miracles have taken place faith has been restored many prayers have been whispered in my corridors
I am a place of worship.

Life has bloomed under my wings joy and laughter I often bring...
I am the Crusader of life.

Patience and courage are my findings belief and trust are my teaching...
I am a preacher of values

Death has sticken under my roof to pain and agony I remain aloof...
I am the bearer of death...

Many are my names,
many are my roles
varied are my jobs but life is my goal...
I am a hospital...

Radhika